Telegrams From Utah Republicans Will Have No Effect on Nomination-Utah Senators May Defeat His Confirmation Next Winter. Strong Prejudice Against Practise of Nominating Outsiders-Sherman's Reply to Salisbury.

(Special to The Regald.) Washington, Oct. 12.-The report that Senator Hanna has protested against dation. Mr. Hanna was really the most potent factor in securing the nominathus, so far as now appears. It was given as a direct reward for McGrew's ants-convention dervices. It is, however, a fact that telegrams have been received here from some prominent. Unth Republicans against this allen appointment. It is not believed that these telegrams will have any effect upon his comination, it is possible, however, that the Utah senators may be able to defeat his confirmation next becomber, for there is a very bitter feeling among senators against the practice of nominating outsiders to an office in any of the states.
